A state championship!

Glades Day School takes second football championship in three years

By JEFF BROWN

BAKER - The Glades Day Gators hung on to a 9-3 lead Friday night to defeat the Baker Gators and claim the class A state championship for the second time in three years.

"I wanted this one more than I did the one in eighty," said Coach Byron Walker.

It was a game of missed opportunities on both teams' parts. The Gators scored first with a field goal in the first quarter, but that lead disappeared in the closing seconds of the first half when Baker responded with a field goal of its own.

Both teams moved the ball down field to within scoring distance of the goal line several times, but came up empty because of turnovers.

Walker had been saying all season that defense was the key ingredient in winning the state title, and it was defense which kept the Gators in the game and eventually proved the difference.

"I have to give this guy (Defense Coach Mandy Pures) credit," said Walker. "What the defense gave us, we cashed in on. I felt like the offense did not do so well. Throughout the year, I thought the defense was outstanding. They'd create situations and turnovers to let us move the ball down and score."

The 3-3 tie was broken in the opening seconds of the fourth quarter when Davey Haynes carried the ball over for the touchdown from the one yard line, giving the Gators a six point lead that would hold through the game.

Earlier in the season Walker had expressed confidence in the ability of Mike Schlachter, the team's kicker, to hit extra-points and field goals. He chose not to go for the extra-point this time, however, opting for the two-point conversion.

"People will be second guessing me for 30 years for going for two," said Walker. "But its like I told the radio before, I'm not gonna go for no tie. That's like kissing your sister."

"And we did make it," he said of the failed attempt, holding his arms apart. "We were in by this much. Our bus driver, who is impartial, was standing down there and said we were in."

"I was very pleased with the officiating in 1980, but I wasn't very pleased with the officiating tonight. I feel like the officiating kept Baker in the ball game."

With a 9-3 lead and a little less than a quarter to go, the Gator defense went to work preserving a lead.

Late in the last period, the Gators' Brian Lohmann intercepted a Baker flier-flicker and ran to within ten yards of the goal-line.

On the move...

THE GATORS' OFFENSE capitalized on every break the defense could give it, according to Coach Byron Walker.

Harrassment charged, man fired

WEST PALM BEACH - Office Davis, the assistant principal of Lake Shore Middle School who was accused of sexually harassing four female students, was fired Wednesday, Dec. 8 by the Palm Beach County School Board.

The board voted 4-2, with little discussion, to dismiss him. Sam

Lovell, the Glades representative on the board, and Hugh MacMillan, Jr., voted against the dismissal.

Supt. Tom Mills brought charges against the 52-year-old educator in August and recommended he be dismissed. Davis was first suspended with pay and later without pay.

During Davis' dismissal hearing in October, four of his former students detailed several encounters they had with Davis last year when they were eighth-graders. Two of the girls, Tammy Ellison and Christina Carter, said Davis solicited kisses from them while on campus. Two other girls, Carmelita Sullivan and Carolyn Dukes, accused Davis of making casual remarks about their breasts.

School Attorney Rich Otfedal characterized the teenagers' decision to come forward as courageous, defense attorney William Holland accused the girls, now freshmen at Glades Central Community School, of fabricating their stories.

Davis, who has been at Glades Shore since 1972, said after the vote to fire him, he is innocent.

"All they have is what those young

2 local residents die in SR 80 crash

BELLE GLADE - Two Belle Glade residents died as a result of a head-on collision on state road 80 Sunday morning, December 12.

According to Florida Highway Patrol reports, Angel Rafael Negron, 21, of 300 SW Third Street in Belle Glade, was traveling west on state road 80 when the Toyota he and another passenger were in crossed the center line and struck the Ford being driven by Ariene McClinton, 30, of 509 SW Ninth Street number two.

Negron and McClinton both died as a result of injuries sustained in the accident.

A passenger in the Negron vehicle, German Ocasio, 18, of Belle Glade, and a passenger in the McClinton vehicle, Dolores R. Sanders, of 516 SW Ninth Street in Belle Glade, were admitted to Glades General Hospital for injuries.

The accident occurred at about 5:30 Sunday morning, December 12.

Committee appointments made in Belle Glade

BELLE GLADE - The Belle Glade City Commission Monday night, December 13, made several appointments to citizen committees. The Airport Advisory Committee was expanded to seven members from its original five.

The expansion will better insure a quorum and will get more people involved in city affairs, according to city officials.

Pahokee to consider recreation funding

PAHOKEE - Clarence Dixon may see the Pahokee City Council fund a recreation department of sorts after all.

The Pahokee City Council Tuesday night agreed to look into the possibility of financially assisting a private youth recreation organization. The teams in the organization, which is supposed to provide training in football, basketball and track for youths between the ages of eight and 15 years, are coached by Dixon.

Dixon's organization, Operation PULL (Pahokee Unity and Little Leagues), has been in existence for five weeks, he told the council, and he asked the city to approve a grant so that it could purchase football uniforms.

The organization currently has 101 youths involved, and uniforms for every member were estimated to have cost about $10,500.

City Attorney Michael Stauder told the council that they legally couldn't contribute more than

Glades Day School Elementary has Christmas program

The Glades Day Elementary School presented its annual Christmas Program entitled "The Living Nativity" on Wednesday December 8, at 7 p.m. in the Dora B. McWhorter Hall.

Musical highlights of the evening included, "Oh Come All Ye Faithful," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "Away In a Manger," and "Joy to the World." The entire musical repertoire was performed by pianist Edward Mikevici.

Special soloists were Brook Sizemore, Michelle Wilkinson, Gerald Resmondo, Peter Ross and Suit Austin.

The program was coordinated by Peggy Green, while each teacher and class contributed to the outcome. The technical advisor was Thomas Carr while stage decorations were coordinated by Irene Tellesha, Valia Rappaport and Elsie King.

The cast of the production came from the elementary school. "Mary" was played by Kim Parrish and "Joseph" was played by Mark Challancin. The three kings who followed the star to Bethlehem were Romello Graydon, Jeffrey Harrington and Mark Dexter.

The host of angels included Jennifer Jones, Mandy McMullen, Bobbie Sue Barnes, Amy Prescott, Brandi Miller, Mendi Rushing, Dede Kirshman, Michelle Thompson, Valeria Tyler, Stacey Grindstaff, Rebecca Tellesha, Kim Boris and Melissa Rutherford.

Shepherds were played by Brad Wilkinson, Luis Capote, Miles Griffin, Tommy King, Andy Ballard, Michael Rodriguez, Trevor Fischer, Chad Parrish, Doug Carter, Ronnie Fountain, Jon Browder, Jason Larson, Jason Tucker and Paul Prescott.

Students that told the story of the nativity to the audience were Jamie Rutherford, Danielle Boris, Tom Carter, Cindy Hood, Lori Courson, Paige Wright, Barbie Woodard, Ryan Davis, Josh Dumeseek, April Haller, Michael Mikovsky, Ami Arenza, Rick Felton, Joe McGahee, Roy Goodson, Janice Lamb, Kelli Woodham, Joly

CHRISTMAS Story continues to hold a special significance

MARY (Kim Parrish) and Joseph (Mark Challancin) are surrounded by angels and the shepherds.

CHOIR soloists lead the students in song at the Living Nativity.

Boglioli and Jay Green. Flag bearers: Tracie Milliron, Kirk Kennedy, Sergio Hernandez and Tricia Milliron along with ushers: Nicky Day, Karen Kidenour, Shelli Shutts and Patty Garcia helped the program to run along smoothly. Also deserving special attention were technical assistants Bruce Wetherington and Matt Mills and Luisa Blanchard and Sandy Rutherford who assisted in forming the program.

AND WHAT NOT

When price is no object

Having finished my own Christmas shopping shortly after I ran out of money, I thought the least I could do is help some of you with yours — either your money or your shopping, makes no difference.

For this week only, I'm offering my home-shopper service, after which I am not only going out of business, I am going out of town. The choices of gifts I offer for your selection are available only because of my connections: I subscribe to the Sunday paper. From its pages I have selected what I think are the choicest gifts of the season. The names of the stores are available upon request. On the other hand, if you want me to keep my mouth shut, it will cost you a little extra.

In the bangles, baubles, and bargains line, may I recommend one gold bracelet for milady's collection that will save you men a bundle. Originally priced at $695, it is now selling for only $625.99. Do people who will pay $995 for one gold bracelet actually run down to the jewelry store when they go on sale for $625? Who am I to judge?

Know a lady who likes to paint-by-numbers? A cosmetics department has an intriguing offer. If the lady will take her face in, the cosmetologist will give her the perfect make-up job and a chart of her face. The chart has numbers on it. Thereafter, she can paint her face by numbers. At least it will stop her from painting any more of those landscapes she keeps fobbing off on friends and relatives.

Can't afford to buy your lady a fur coat? No problem. You can rent one by the day, the week, or the month. It's quite possible they have seasonal rates and July is a bargain month for rentals. By the way, they also rent men's furs, in case you know any men who are simply swooning for a mink coat.

Is there someone on your gift list who would be a subscription to a dating service? There are all sorts of possibilities for this gift idea which I don't think I'll go into here.

Perfume, of course, is the perennial favorite. One fragrance sells for $90 an ounce. Only a piker would buy an ounce, get her a quart for only $2,880. On the other hand, I suppose giving someone a quart of perfume would have connotations that an ounce subtly avoids. I'll leave it to you to discretion: will an ounce do it or does she need a quart?

Wristwatches are a big Christmas item. Especially when they cost $4,900 apiece. The advert doesn't say if they keep accurate time — just that they last for years. That's a blessing, anyhow. A $7,960 watch is "distinctive" and I'll bet it is too.

Still, there's a little chauvinism afoot here, or I miss my guess. Where his costs $4,900, hers is only $4,200. The $7,960 model for him is just $5,750 for her. Why is this, do you suppose? Bigger wrists?

Anyway, if you don't think a watchmaker can come up with a fairly decent timepiece at these prices, another one down the street has watches priced up to $21,000.

A word of caution, though. All watches advertised are "subject to price sale." At those prices, I suppose you have to hurry, or you might suddenly come to your senses.

Drinking problems

by Anonymous Anna

All of us have problems of one kind or another — that's part of life and living. If you have a drinking problem and continue to DENY the fact that you can't handle it alone you will end up with three alternatives...prison...institutionalization...the nut house, or death.

Alcoholism is a disease not a moral issue. It is a disease of denial on the part of the alcoholic. He or she is the last one to admit "I can't handle it." The other family members have been well aware of the fact for quite some time. The alcoholic cannot imagine a life without alcohol. How else can he make his damaged ego quit hurting.

He drinks to forget, he drinks to celebrate, he drinks because he's worried and he deserves it. He drinks because he's too hung over to make it to work. Of course he can justify all of his insanities...he thinks to everyone but himself. Alcohol is his god. Alcohol controls him. The thoughts of not drinking are incomprehensible.

Alcoholism affects individuals in three ways...mentally, physically, and spiritually. The alcoholic does not live. He exists or even subsists. Very few alcoholics can recover alone. He makes promises to those who are nearest and dearest. "I'll show you, I'll quit for one month" and he does but on the thirty second day he deserves to celebrate and before you know it he's returned to the old, familiar and INSANE way of living.

Maybe you haven't lost your car, your house or your family YET. If you continue on your self-destructive way of living it's almost certain you will.

Ninety nine percent of the recovery process is first admitting that drinking is causing you problems. Once you have admitted that alcohol is interfering with your life take action. GET HELP. You can learn how to live sober and enjoy life "One Day At A Time." That's all any of us have anyway. Are you sick and tired of being "a drunk"? Do you have saddle sores from your wife riding you about YOUR problem? Is your life unmanageable? Are you looking for a new and better way of life? More than 150 million people are successfully recovering from their problem drinking.

Letter to the editor

To The Editor

This is a practice letter to the Editor from Mr. Aho's fifth grade class. We are studying the various uses of the newspaper and decided to write a letter to the Editor hoping you would print this.

Our topic was on Making Clewiston A Better Place to Live, and most of our suggestions were along the lines of entertainment. We feel a lot can be done to help our community.

We took a survey of the fifth grade classes and we feel that Clewiston could have a horse and hiking trail, 178 students were interested in an A.T.C. and soccer track. 65 ty swimming pool, an A.T.C. and go-cart track, a racketball court, and a softball league for girls similar to Little League.

In our survey we found that 184 of the students were interested in a horse and hiking trail, 200 students were interested in a year round community pool, 178 students were interested in an A.T.C. and soccer track. 65 we were interested in a racketball court, and 143 were interested in a girls softball league.

A strong majority of the students also felt that we should have another shopping center, and a hospital that delivers babies.

We thank all the students involved in the survey and we hope that our suggestions will be given attention.

Mr. Aho's
Fifth Grade Class

Letters policy

We solicit and encourage letters to the editor.

Our guidelines are simple:

✓ No libelous content.

✓ Letters should be relatively brief.

✓ No more than 300 words as a general rule.

✓ Signatures are required.

✓ No poetry, please.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States conducts several programs of community service throughout the nation, which are briefly described below.

AMERICANISM
The VFW has

consistently prepared and distributed pamphlets, brochures, and other educational materials.

It has also conducted approximately 107 million man hours and 591 million to community service projects each year.

SAFETY

The VFW National Service Department sponsors six major programs. They are Drive-to-Survive, an educational drivers training program which has been in operation since 1973; Life-Bike reflectorized taping program that has taped more than 29 million bicycles since 1963; Drug Abuse; Bicycle Safety; Hunter Safety; and Recognition of Public Service employees, such as policemen, fire fighters and the like.

YOUTH ACTIVITIES

Baseball, bowling, football and soccer are among the major sports programs the VFW sponsors for the nation's youth. More than 1,100 Boy Scout Troops are sponsored by VFW Posts as well as numerous Sons of the VFW and Junior Units. The VFW also is a sponsor of Junior and Special Olympics, plus other youth programs.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States conducts an annual broadcast script writing contest for high school students.

VETERANS of the Voice of Democracy Scholarship Program. More than 250,000 students entered the contest last year, which culminated in the awarding of $60,000 in scholarships and other prizes at the local and state levels and $32,600 in scholarships to the first six place winners in the national competition.

VETERANS of the SERVICE

In addition to the service performed by VFW Posts and Auxiliary units throughout the nation, the VFW maintains a network of accredited service officers in every VFW Post. Veterans' Administration Regional Office in each state and in Washington, D.C. These service officers advise, process and represent veterans and their dependents with claims before various government agencies, such as the Veterans Administration, Social Security Administration,

BOILER PLATE

Murphy's Law can strike close to home

As our neighbors know, my wife and I have been putting an addition on our house since July. It's been going on so long that we have accepted the chronic disorder which resulted from our white elephant.

Disorder is a good word to describe this project because it has been more or less jinxed from the start.

The only way the situation could worsen is for the whole thing to disappear into a sinkhole. I've found out that lots of things can go wrong with a construction project.

The entire project can and did come to a standstill for endless weeks because the proper windows couldn't be found and then because the proper bricks couldn't be found.

After considerable consternation and gnashing of teeth the windows were installed and the brick found. The brick is stacked in two piles in the backyard and Christmas enjoys leaping back and forth on the two stacks.

Hopefully, the twin brick mountains will soon be rearranged around the room and mortared into place.

In the meantime, the interior of the room has for the most part been completed. There is no privacy inside the house because our blinds haven't arrived yet. They had to be back ordered.

This is probably the worst part because there is no privacy for the interior of the house. Until the blinds arrive, I can't lounge in front of the television in my underwear with a beer, at least without scandalizing the neighborhood.

In the meantime, the exterior remains unfinished. It's been that way so long that some of my neighbors probably think that's the way we intended it to be.

In fact, one of them asked me the other day if the addition was completed.

I always like to look for the bright side of any situation. I'm just thankful we weren't trying to build an entire house, rather than just an addition.

The Glades area has a unique opportunity to claim two state football championships this year. Glades Day won the Class A championship with its 9-3 win over Baker last Friday.

This week, Clewiston travels to Monticello Jefferson County to play for the Class 2A championship.

All local residents can be proud of the accomplishments of these two outstanding teams.

Brucellosis indemnity to be flat-rate

Effective immediately, federal indemnities paid to Florida producers for cattle slaughtered because of brucellosis will no longer fluctuate with market prices, but will be paid on a flat-rate basis.

The new maximum federal rates are $50 for nonregistered beef cattle, $250 for registered animals (both beef and dairy) and nonregistered dairy cattle, and $50 for certain calves.

Florida's rate of indemnities is unchanged and includes $100 for registered beef cattle and all dairy cattle, and $50 for non-registered beef cattle. The state pays no additional indemnity for calves.

"We needed to return to flat rates for several reasons, including the need to reduce costs," said John Atwell, deputy administrator for the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

According to Atwell, before the new fixed rates went into effect, indemnity rates were generally higher and adjustable according to fluctuating market prices and regional price differences.

Rates, for example, for registered cattle in Florida were based on a percentage of appraised value less actual slaughter price. "Adjustable rates did not work well in practice and frequently resulted in over compensation," said Atwell.

The number of children reported abused or neglected in Florida last year would fill the Orange Bowl.

Every day, more than 195 kids are reported abused or neglected in Florida.

Kids of all ages, races, classes and sex-disorders, physically hurt, even blind.

What is even more shocking is that for every case of child abuse reported, two go unreported. Victims need your help. So do activists. Do your part. If you think a child is being abused, report it. You could save a child's life.

Students take part in erosion program

BELLE GLADE- Science classes at Lake Shore Elementary School are helping to protect Belle Glade's precious Black Gold—its soil.

Under the direction of Project Coordinator, Robert Polio, a sixth grade teacher at the school, Lake Shore students are participating in a "Unique Soil Erosion-Black Gold" grant project.

The project activities are being funded by an Environmental Education Mini-Grant awarded to Lake Shore Elementary School to study the problem of muck subsidence, which is unique to the West Area. Police said specific activities have been developed in cooperation with the Soil and Water Conservation District.

"The management team from the conservation district will help students and faculty understand how much subsidence can be retarded by proper landscaping," said Polio.

"SWCD personnel also have pointed areas of the school grounds to be used for an environmental education program while also providing for aesthetic improvements," he said.

Students at the school recently landscaped the front entrance of Lake Shore and each class participating in the project will be responsible for developing an area of the school grounds according to plans drawn up by the conservation district.

The classes of Miss Ida Williams, Edward Howard, James Eccles and Miss Cora Edwards are participating in the project along with Police's sixth grade class.

In addition to assistance from SWCD, the students also have toured the Agricultural Research Center in Belle Glade to learn more about muck subsidence, and sugar cane and rice crops.

With the assistance of the mini grant and hard work by the students, Lake Shore Elementary School is expected to have a new look by June, according to Principal Eddie Fitzgerald.

$100 to a private organization. In order for the city to assist Operation PULL, it would have to allocate funds for a city recreation program to be operated under Public Works Director Mounts.

If the city wouldn't fund any employees for the program, Mounts could then operate it through volunteers, such as those from Operation PULL. Dixon and Myrtle Randolph, a Pahokee resident, both said they would volunteer to staff the organization.

Dixon also said this would be the only time he would ask the city to assist the program financially because he expected it to fund itself in the future through fund-raisers and donations.

In effect, the city would be creating a recreation department with a once-only allocation for a program identical to that offered by Operation PULL, but it wouldn't allocate funds to hire employees to manage the program.

Dixon and those involved in Operation PULL would volunteer their services and use the funds to support programs set up by the private organization.

When those funds were used, the program would be expected to support itself.

Prior to the adoption of the Pahokee 1982-83 budget, Dixon had asked the city to create a recreation department with him as director.

It turned him down after he failed to provide the council with the information it requested on how he would spend the money he was requesting.

They decided instead to improve the local recreation facilities and parks.

If the city council does decide to fund a recreation program and allow it to be run through Operation PULL volunteers, Dixon would be directing the department's activities as an unpaid volunteer.

"It's the general feeling of the council. I think that we all would like to get something together on it," said Councilwoman Ada Bush.

"I think it's a good program," said Chairman Jon Mock.

When Councilman William E. McKinstry pointed out that the city would have to advertise for bids if it was going to purchase uniforms with the allocation, Dixon accused him of being against the program and said the city's plan would take control of the organization from him.

He also said that the bidding process would harm his plans for the league to have a football game on Christmas Day.

Bush said that the city would rely on him to manage the program because no one working for the city would know how to manage it.

City Clerk Betty J. McCoy said she thought that once the allocation was approved and the volunteers took over, the city would probably back out of the project entirely because its part was completed.

McKinstry said that the city had to either advertise for bids on the uniforms or find a dealer under state bid contract, the only legal way around the bidding process.

"There's just no way to do it on that amount of money," he said.

Bush said there was no way the city could provide uniforms in time for a Christmas Day game.

"If I have to wait a little time, that's just something I have to do," said Dixon.

Insurance

The council Tuesday, November 14, 1982, decided to purchase a $2 million public official liability insurance policy.

The city is purchasing the coverage through the Milton O. Carpenter Insurance Agency at an annual cost of $3,500.

Paul Kornya, a representative from Milton O. Carpenter, told the council that the policy, which went into effect Wednesday, December 15, will pay up to $2 million in judgments for each occurrence. If several employees or council members are successfully sued for a total in judgments over that figure because of one incident, the insurance company isn't responsible for more than $2 million of those judgments. All policies are written that way, he said.

The policy also covers firefighters.

The city had previously held liability coverage only on its police department.

"It's something new that hasn't been out very long," said Kornya.

"I don't think we really had any kind of need for this in the past," said Councilman George Tillis. "But times are changing."

"I think we need it," said Councilwoman Ada Bush.

In other business, the council:

- Approved $1,206 in cost over-runs in the redesigning and refurbishing of a building into a fire station.

Davis

ladies said. No facts have been proven," Davis said.

"I feel basically that I was a political victim," he added. He did not elaborate on the comment.

Davis first joined Lake Shore as a dean of boys and later as an assistant principal. He joined the school system in 1956 as a health and physical education teacher.

Davis' attorney, William Holland said he plans to pursue a previously filed federal suit protesting school board dismissal procedures.

Testifying in his own defense, Davis said he was guilty of nothing more than showing friendly affection to the students to whom he has dedicated his life.

In Davis' defense, fellow teacher Raymond Buck said Davis was an out-going, loving person who frequently hugged both him and his wife as a harmless expression of affection.

Gators reclaim state class A title

Perez said the coaching staff had seen the truck-and-trailer formation on a film of a recent Baker play-off game, and, working on a hunch that that play was in the plans, prepared for it. When Baker set it up late in the fourth quarter, the defense was ready.

The hunch proved accurate. When the Baker halfback, Lohmann stepped between them and grabbed the ball.

"The Gators could have put the game away with a field goal."

In the second play after the turnover, the Gators were thrown for a loss and were backed up to the ten.

"I told Raul to put it in the air. I told him the only thing we didn't need was an interception," Walker said.

It was intercepted at the goal line.

"But the ball was well thrown," said Walker. "Every ball that Ralph (Raul Garcia) threw tonight was well thrown. (Baker) made a good play."

Garcia played the whole game with a broken finger, according to Walker and Perez. He broke it in the play-off two weeks ago against Hialeah-Dade.

"Every time the center snapped the ball into his hands, it hurt," said Perez.

"We tried to talk him out of it, but he was determined to play," said Walker.

Walker said he figured Baker had to be held in the last five minutes of the game because that was when Baker came from behind to win its last two games.

"I just kept thinking 'Oh God, not three weeks in a row. Not three weeks in a row,'" said Walker. "I tried to die three times out there tonight, but somebody didn't let me."

The Gator defense snapped Baker's streak of comebacks.

It forced Baker to punt and the Gators once again moved to within field goal range.

"He hit 'em in practice," said Walker.

Baker took one last possession before time ran out. The crowd of about 800 to 900 Glades Day fans counted off the final seconds of the game, and the Gators reclaimed the class A championship.

"We're real proud of 'em now," said Walker. "They're the best."

"I wanted this one more than I did the one in eighty," said Walker. "It's rewarding when the kids get to see success after hard work."

The Gators opened their season with four straight games against 2A schools.

Walker said Tom King, the school's athletic director, came to him before the season with the schedule and told him that it was the best he could get.

"I told him 'Hell, you're crazy,'" Walker said of his response. After King told him that no other Class A schools would schedule a game with Glades Day, the coaching staff decided to make the best of the early part of the season.

The Gators used the first four games of the season to build their team. Throughout the first five weeks of the 1982 season, Walker kept repeating that by the time the district games rolled around, the Gators would be the best team.

"That was our theory," said Walker.

He was right. The district was weak. Moore Haven, King's Academy and Benjamin collapsed to the Gators and Walker started thinking that his team might not be strong enough to win in the play-offs.

A rout at the hands of Frostproof didn't alleviate that fear.

"I had a question whether we could win in the play-offs," said Walker.

So did the sportswriters who set the rankings. When the final polls came out prior to the Regional Play-offs, Glades Day was ranked ninth and was an underdog to Hialeah-Dade.

"All three times (in the play-offs), we were written off," said Perez.

Each time, the Gators proved the experts wrong. They downed Hialeah and shut-out Sarasota-Booker to earn a rematch against the Baker Gators for the state title.

Baker, which lost to the Gators 7-6 for the state title in 1980, was so confident that it would win the game it had a state 1A championship banner made in the school's maroon and gold colors. The game announcer told the crowd before the game that it would be presented to the winner of the game.

That night, it hung in Perez's and Walker's motel room in Crest View.

"We do our best with our backs to the wall," said Walker. "I'd rather go into a championship game as an underdog, cause just cause you're supposed to win doesn't mean you will."

Walker said he didn't particularly care to play in Baker.

"I didn't like playing in Baker Stadium in 1980 because of the noise," he said. "And I believe the noise was worse this time. I think it hurt them more than us. I dread the day we have to host a state championship game at Glades Day because of how close the stands are to the field."

"We were really hoping to get Frostproof in the play-off," said Walker. "But if tonight is any indication, they're at home. They probably have a basketball game tonight."

"We could have beaten them," said Perez.

Walker said he may only coach one more year before retiring the reins to another.

"I've been to the mountain," commented Walker.

But the nucleus of the team, including Walker, is expected back next year.

The only vital weak spot may be at quarterback. Garcia is graduating, and Lohmann, who filled in for Garcia in the sectional play-off against Sarasota-Booker, is needed to lead the defense.

Perez said the school is grooming a quarterback in junior varsity that might be able to take over.

"This has been an effort of the people of the Glades, South Bay, Pahokee and the surrounding areas. We've got to appreciate them," said Walker. "They're typical folks. They're gonna say what they think."

The Gators, led by Quarterback Raul Garcia, defeated the Moore Haven Terriers 7-0 in 12 minutes of play, and lost to Lake Placid 14-0 in the fourth quarter of the rain drenched jambores.

Garcia was relieved temporarily in the last quarter by John Hundley and Brian Lohmann.

"All things considered, we looked okay," said head coach Byron Walker. "We mixed our teams up. The first team didn't play the whole time. We know what we have to work on for the fall."

"I wouldn't say I'm optimistic right now, but I'm not pessimistic either."

The Terriers got revenge in the first quarter of play when they fought Glades Day to a scoreless tie.

In the last quarter, the Gators met John Carroll and picked up a 7-0 victory.

Raul Garcia completed five of 11 passes for 79 yards and Jose Perez led the team in rushing.

"Our offensive line is looking really good," said Walker. "We established a running game in both quarters which was good. Defensively, we gave a little but didn't break down."

With a week to go before the gridiron season opened, Walker was assessing the Gators' chances.

"We're in a rebuilding situation," he said. "We have a lot of inexperienced players, but we have confidence in what we have."

The Gators opened the season with four straight games against 2A schools.

"We could be 0-4 and four before we play something in our district," said Walker. "We're not gonna be discouraged. Our goal is to win the district title again."

"We just have to improve each game so that when we take the field in the fourth quarter, we're putting out the best football team we can possibly field."

The season opener the next week was against Pine Crest, the team that snapped the Gators' winning streak in the 1981 opener.

"It's important to win the opener regardless of who you play," said Walker. "It sets the tone for the whole season."

September 10, 1982

Turnovers killed the Gators in their opener against the Pine Crest Panthers. Five fumbles and two pass interceptions helped hand Glades Day an opening day loss in front of a home crowd.

"We tried to spread them out," said Walker of the fumbles. "We all tried to drop some. I even tried to fumble on the sidelines a couple of times."

The Gators picked up 72 yards on the ground and lost six in the air.

Walker expressed disappointment but was philosophical about the loss, calling it a "learning experience."

"Our goal is to learn something every week," he said. "I don't feel that terribly bad about it."

"You can bet we intend to be better next week," he said looking towards the game against Bishop Verot, which scored 49 points that week in its opener. "We fully intend to shut them out. By the time district comes around, we'll be the best team in the district."

September 17, 1982
Gators 24, Bishop Verot 22

The Gators came back from a 16-0 deficit to take a 24-22 overtime victory.

Jose Perez ran the ball over from the four-yard line and also carried it in for the two point conversion to seal the victory and give the Gators a 1-1 record in two games against 2A schools.

October 1, 1982
Cardinal Rooney 13, Gators 6

Raul Garcia hit Marion Tyson with a 49-yard touchdown pass but it wasn't enough to stop the Cougars from picking up the victory.

Garcia completed four of 10 passing attempts for a gain of 75 yards.

Brian Lohmann led the team with 49 yards on the ground in 13 carries.

"We knew that to go 0 and four in this stretch was very possible," said Walker. "They're all bigger schools. I don't think our confidence has been damaged. We messed around and won one game."

"Of course, we're disappointed we lost Friday," he added. "Things are going the way we want them to go. We're getting there, on schedule. We'll have had our backs to the wall a number of times by the time districts roll around, so pressure won't be anything new to us."

October 8, 1982
Gators 20, Lake Placid 7

The Gators ended the first four weeks of their schedule, four games that Walker conceded could see the Gators go winless, with a 2-2 record after they beat the Dragons 20-7.

Mike Schlechter kicked eight points, hitting field goals from 35 and 31 yards, and two extra point attempts.

Jose Perez scored one touchdown and gained 64 yards in 14 carries. Raul Garcia completed two of four passes for 40 yards.

"We paid our dues," said Walker. "I believe in my heart that we should win the district. The kids just have to make up their minds that that's what they want more than anything else in the world. It's the hardest part of coaching, keeping the kids up from one to the next."

October 15, 1982
Gators 14, King's Academy 7

The Gators picked up their first district victory, but Walker wasn't too pleased with what he saw.

"Terrible. We probably played the second worst game of the year. We played the worst against Pine Crest and the second worst against King's Academy."

"Defensively, we allowed King's to run up the middle," he continued. "They controlled the clock on us. They were inside our 20 three or four times. We turned them back three of those times. After they (the Gators) saw King's was more than just a ranking in a newspaper, they decided they better get it in gear and do something."

"A handful and fifteen yards in penalties didn't help us. That's just not like us. We seem to have digressed some this week. We're a darn good football team, which we proved by coming out with a victory even though we played so poorly."

October 22, 1982
Gators 26, John Carroll 13

The game was tied 7-7 at the end of the first quarter, but the Gators put together a 19 point second period to down the Rams. With the game apparently in hand, the second half saw the Gators substitute many of the first string players to give the bench some playing time.

But the final minute of the game could have thrown the victory to John Carroll.

The ball sat six inches from their goal line. A touchdown and extra-point could have set up an on-side kick, but the Gators' defense prevented the Rams from scoring and gave the Gators the win.

"Nobody's been able to sustain a long drive on us," said Walker. "Overall, I'm pleased."

"I wasn't particularly pleased with our offensive or defensive performance," he said of the second half when the bench took over. "They were a lot of guys who haven't seen a lot of playing time, but you always want to see them do well. We weren't emotionally up for the game."

October 29, 1982
Glades Day 20, Benjamin 0

The Gators were district champions. Their victory over Benjamin assured them of the play-off berth.

The Gators' defense stood out as it held the Buccaneers scoreless and scored 12 points of its own in the second half.

Mike Schlechter kicked six points and Raul Garcia ran in for one touchdown. Robby Carter intercepted a pass and ran it back 80 yards for a touchdown and Davey Haynes also intercepted a pass and ran it in three yards for the TD.

"I expected it to be a little closer," said Walker who had done some advance scouting of the Gators' rivals for the District Seven A crown. "I expected Benjamin to score a few points."

"We're getting better every week. On the coaching staff, we knew all along that we had a good ball club. But the kids' confidence wasn't what it should be after those first couple losses. We can be in contention for the state championship, we're confident of that now."

"We're just hoping to finish the season real strong and getting into the playoffs and possibly making another dent in Florida high school football history."

November 5, 1982
Frostproof 33, Gators 6

I think we left our game in Belle Glade," said Walker after number one ranked Frostproof routed the district seven champions.

"We weren't emotionally prepared to play the number one team in the state, and when you play a team of their calibre, you better be emotionally prepared."

The Gators were held to just 85 yards in the air and 88 on the ground. Frostproof recovered three of four Gator fumbles and intercepted one of Garcia's 16 pass attempts.

"We seemed more worried about the cold weather than playing football. Sad but true. They were at their best and we were at our worst," concluded Walker.

November 12, 1982
Gators 28, Moore Haven 0

The Gators extended their district record to 3-0 with a shut out victory over the Terriers.

Raul Garcia completed six of 10 passes for 175 yards and was intercepted once.

Jose Perez carried the ball in for TDs twice. Brian Lohmann caught a 32 yard TD pass and Jesse Lee caught an 18 yard pass for a touchdown. Davey Haynes carried the ball for a two point conversion and Schlechter kicked two extra-points.

"We're proud of them, the way they bounced back and beat Moore Haven 28 to nothing after losing 33 to six to Frostproof," said Walker.

"They played a much better defensive ball game, and we're going to have to maintain that defensive peak. It's nice to have good offense, but to win the state championship, you have to have a good defense."

November 19, 1982
Gators 21, Melbourne Central 14

The Gators finished the season 7-3 by beating

Melbourne for Walker's 50th victory as Glades Day's head coach, and prepared for post-season play against Hialeah-Dade Christian for the Regional crown the next week.

The outcome of the Melbourne game was never in question, according to Walker.

Marion Tyson caught an eight yard pass from Raul Garcia for the first touchdown of the game. Schlechter hit the first of three extra-points.

Davey Haynes ran a fumble recovery back one yard for the second touchdown in the third, and Jose Perez did likewise in the fourth.

With the game tucked safely away 21-14, the Gators looked toward the play-off the next week.

"We have our work cut out," said Walker. "We have to get our blocking scheme down. We're not gonna do many different things."

November 26, 1982
Gators 24, Hialeah 14

The Gators scored 17 points before giving up any to Hialeah. The Gators claimed the victory, but Quarterback Raul Garcia broke a finger in his passing hand during the game.

"We're pleased overall. We're pleased with the win. We're glad to be in the semi-finals. Anything from now on is just icing on the cake," said Walker.

The victory sent the Gators to the semi-finals against Sarasota-Bonker the following week.

December 3, 1982

"It makes you feel good when your backup quarterback can go in in the semi-finals of the state and get the job done," said Walker.

Lohmann filled in for the injured Garcia and helped the Gators win a rematch with Baker for the state class A title.

Jose Perez carried both of the Gators' TDs across the goal line.

"We played the kinda defense Friday that you have to play to win the state championship," said Walker, adding that he expects Garcia back in the final championship game. "We'll play him as long as he can go."

December 10, 1982
Gators 9, Baker 3

For the second time in three years, the Glades Day School Gators defeated Baker for the state crown. Raul Garcia led the Gators despite a broken finger.

"I wanted this one more than I did the one in eighty," said Walker after the game. "We're real proud of them now. They're the best."

MEMBERS of the 1982 championship team celebrate on the sidelines as the 1982 team reclaims the title.

Local cage teams prepare for Glades Day Christmas tournament

BELLE GLADE—Two local high school basketball teams are preparing for the annual Christmas Tournament at Glades Day School.

The tournament is scheduled to start tonight at six when Christian Day School meets Moore Haven. That game will be followed by the Glades Day team against Benjamin at 7:30.

The losers of those games will meet at six Friday night and tonight's winners will vie for the tournament title at 7:30 tomorrow.

There's a chance that the Glades Day Gators and Christian Day Crusaders will be meeting for the title tomorrow night.

According to Christian Day Coach Woody Salvatore, the Gators may have an easy time of it against Benjamin in the first round.

His own Crusaders are sporting a 2-3 record, having lost to Fort Myers Christian and Lake Worth Christian. Their only other loss came at the hands of Moore Haven. The Terriers beat them by two points last week.

"We know what we have to do," said Salvatore. "Moore Haven's probably the one to beat in the tournament."

The Crusaders have played inconsistently so far this season, he said. They beat Beren and LaBelle for their two victories, and lost three.

"Our strength has been our speed and defense," said Salvatore. "Offensively, we have a lot of trouble shooting from the outside."

He said the team has only one player capable of hitting the outside shot with any consistency, Tim Mann, a sophomore playing forward.

The team has lost height since last year also.

Scott Hudson graduated, and Luis Garcia, who led the team in scoring and was second in rebounds last year, has moved over to Glades Day.

The game tonight will be the first that Alex Morales plays this season. He's been out since the beginning of the season with a football injury.

The team's starting five has been picked rotated among six individuals throughout most of the first part of the season.

John Armas and Robert Echols, both seniors, have been playing guard. Mirto Vigas, a sophomore, has also put in time at the point.

Seniors Tavi Garcia and Roly Ramos have played at forward with relief from Mann. Cary McKee, another senior, has played center.

Tavi Garcia has been relied on for rebounding along with Cary McKee, according to Salvatore.

Glades Day hasn't had much time to put together a basketball team, according to Coach Byron Walker, who takes over the position from Dick Schmidt this year.

Most of the team has been on the school's football team, and the post-season play-offs have cut into the time usually used to organize the team.

Three seniors will be starting for the Gators. Jorge Rodriguez and Luis Garcia will play at forward and Raul Garcia will play guard.

The rest of the lineup will come from a pool of eight players: Brian Lohmann, Mike Basore, Mike Schlechter, John Treva, Michael Mock, Jeff Parson, Davey Haynes, and Eddie McCook.

"I expect all the kids to see a lot of playing time in the tournament," said Walker. "Our team looks ragged right now."

Appointments—

Clay Spens was reappointed to the committee. His term will expire in 1982.

Homer Hand and Robert Mace were appointed to fill the newly created positions on the committee. Mace's term will expire in 1985.

Three appointments were also made to the Citizens' Planning Advisory Committee. Annie L. Hillery was reappointed to her seat on the committee. Her term expires in July of this year.

Lillie Bell Gordon and Annie P. Hill were also appointed to the CPAC.

In other business, the city commission:

- Approved a request for a change in the alcoholic beverage area designation of property owned by Thomas Montgomery at 419 SW Third Street.

The area was designated Area E for the sale of beer and wine, package only. The new designation, approved by the commission is Area B for the sale of beer and wine, package and consumption and premises.

The commission approved the change by a 4-1 vote. Commissioner George Gelford, Jr., cast the dissenting vote.

Adopted an ordinance designating the Los Isabellas restaurant on state road 80 as alcoholic beverage designation area A.

- Approved the hiring of a year-round part-time employee at the marina. Recreation Department Director John Rutledge said the new position will cost about $3,500 a year.

- Approved a requisition of $5 per employee so each area or department of the city can hold a Christmas Party. It also approved up to $150 for a Christmas tree and decorations for the city hall lobby.

The tree has been put up and cost about $60 plus the cost of decorations, according to City Manager W.E. "Tom" Strang.

"What bothers me is $150 for a tree and decorations," said Commissioner William A. Grear. "And when you're through with it, you throw it out in the yard. That's what bothers me."

"We, we can preserve it and use it, again next year," said Commissioner Charles Goodlett.

Mace Sod wins winter league softball crown

BELLE GLADE—Mace Sod won the winter softball league championship Tuesday night by defeating Glades Sugar in two of three championship games.

Mace Sod won the first game 6-4 despite a home run by Mike Frasier in the second inning that tied the game 1-1.

Gary Bradshaw walked in the tying run and was followed by Sonny Stien who hit a single to knock in two runs and win the game 6-4.

Glades Sugar came back in the second game under the leadership of Mike Hadden who went two for three and collected three runs batted in while scoring twice himself.

Glades Sugar won that game 8-2.

The third and final game saw Mace Sod take the championship with a resounding 10-2 victory.

Glades Sugar scored one in the bottom of the first inning, but Mace Sod came back with four runs in the top of the second to take the lead.

Glades Sugar scored again in the bottom of the second, but Mace Sod expanded their lead by three in the third. It put the final touches to its victory with three runs in the fifth inning.

Alan Sullivan went three for four in the game and scored twice, knocking in three runs. He also picked up nine assists on the field in the last game to help hold Glades Sugar to just two runs.

Jimmy Herring also went three for four in the final game. He scored one and knocked in two.

Herring led both teams in the final game by batting .638, hitting seven times in 11 at bats.

Mace's Brandon Markham and Alan Sullivan both went six for ten in the three game series, batting .600.

New managers take over at employment service

BELLE GLADE—Two recent managerial additions at Florida State Employment Services said their goal is to improve the services' image among employers and the public.

"Too often people get the idea that state agencies really don't want to provide a service," said Tom Cooke, the manager of Unemployment Compensation since the beginning of August. "We do."

Linda Metzger had taken over the manager's role in the Employment Office on December 8, creating a total turnover in the management of the two offices.

Metzger and Cooke said they hope to function as a team to better inform the employers of the services' functions and abilities and to get a better idea from the public how it could improve.

"I think we have to improve our community relations," said Metzger. She said that could be done by educating employers of the office's programs and working with the employers to improve the services.

Cooke said he doesn't want his office perceived as an "easy mark" for those wishing to unjustly draw compensation, but he also doesn't want it viewed as cold hearted to those in real need, either.

"We don't want anyone to draw unemployment compensation who isn't entitled to it," he said. "And by the same token, we don't want anyone who's entitled to it to be knocked out of it."

He said that unemployment compensation also provides more than just insurance to of an income to those out of work. It helps to keep the economy going in some respects.

"Business people don't like to admit it, but unemployment compensation checks are what's keeping a lot of doors open," he said. "When 14 or 15 percent of the population are unemployed, you're talking about a sizeable amount of money. That money makes house payments and puts food on the tables."

Metzger said the office is planning a joint Christmas party December 23 and that all employees are invited to stop in at it during the office's regular working hours of 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Metzger has worked inside Belle Glade office before. She was an interviewer there for about 10 months in 1978, she said, before being promoted to another position on the coast. The recent promotion brought her back here.

She said she has a bachelor's degree in business education and is a Vietnam area veteran.

Cooke had previously worked at an employment office in Ohio before making the move to Florida. He has a bachelor's degree in Sociology, Economics and Political Science.

Holiday fashion show held

The Glades Day School Home Economics Department along with Mistress of Ceremonies, Vickie Lassiter, presented "A Holiday Fashion Show" on Monday December 6, at 7 p.m. in the Dora B. McWhorter Hall.

The show was coordinated by Kathy Burdick while Teresita Gomez was responsible for the technical direction.

The fashions were courtesy of "The Diana Shoppe" of Belle Glade and models were from Glades Day.

"Each girl was given the opportunity to try something new and each was responsible for the coordinating of her own outfit for the program," said Burdick. "It was a good experience for them."

The models followed a holiday theme that included outfits from casual sweats to satin evening dresses to flannel pajamas for Christmas morning.

The young women of Glades Day who modeled are: Angae Adams, Marylu Blanchard, Loli Blanchard, Luly Blanchard, Vicki Bowles, Claudia Bumo, Amy Croach, Tracy Davis, Aimee Fisher, Mechy Garcia, Mechy Gomez, Laurelee Green, Julianne Green, Angie Griffith, Kim Griffith, Jeri Ann Haulcomb, Lisa Haynes, Krista Hundley, Chris Kitchman, Lyndy Korbly, Ann Letour, Michelle Marotta, Nikki Marotta, Susan Meeks, Michelle Odden, Patty Perez, Julie Prewitt, Lourdes Puig, Gracie Recio, Marietta Rodriguez and Becky Teets.

Special music and lighting was provided by Kent Davis and photographs of the girls were taken by Debbie Hatfield. Immediately following the show was a reception catered by "Freddie's."

FPL'S WATT-WISE PRODUCTS PROGRAM

The professional contractor or dealer displaying this sign is participating in FPL's Watt-Wise™ Products Program.

The program consists of four financial incentives designed to help qualifying customers make their houses more energy-efficient and use less electricity.

Cooling & Heating Incentive. FPL will pay up to several hundred dollars towards the cost of having an older air conditioning system or heat pump replaced with a qualifying high efficiency system.

Ceiling Insulation Incentive. FPL will pay up to $300 towards the cost of having ceiling insulation installed.

Water Heating Incentive. FPL will pay up to several hundred dollars towards the cost of having an inefficient water heater modified or replaced with a solar water heater, water heating heat pump or heat recovery unit.

Solar Film Incentive. FPL will pay up to $150 towards the cost of having solar-reflective film installed. This helps reduce air-conditioning costs.

High achievers take part in Project Aspiration

GLADE-High academic achievers at Glade View Elementary School recently were tapped to participate in a new pilot project, whose purpose is to motivate students to higher academic levels.

The project is called "Project Aspiration" and is administered at the local elementary school by Estella Pyfrom.

Pyfrom, the Guidance Counselor at Glade View, said the project is designed to improve student performance through community experience.

"We are very excited about this project and the opportunity to work with high academic achievers," said Mrs. Pyfrom.

One of the goals of Project Aspiration is to help students find a reason for achieving academically.

Pyfrom said that the students who understand the importance of education, know the function of institutions, and are able to identify and follow patterns, will find it easier to achieve their goals.

Approximately 100 students working on grade level in reading and math and classified among the top ten students in their class were chosen to participate.

Mrs. Pyfrom said students tapped for the project will remain in the program as long as they continue to work on grade level and remains well-behaved.

To assist Mrs. Pyfrom with the program, a number of parent-support committees were organized at a special orientation meeting held at Glade View on Thursday, Dec. 2.

Mrs. Pyfrom said two committees, the public relations and publicity have been very busy obtaining information to the community about "Project Aspiration".

She said parent volunteers are also soliciting equipment to help operate the program.

Among the items needed she said are a copying machine, typewriter, two vans, files cabinets, duplicator machine, camera, library supplies, desks, chairs, carpet, drapes, storage cabinet, color tape recorder, video camera, sewing machine, refrigerator, movie camera, movie projector, plastic flutes, assorted fabrics, earphones, record players and tape recorders.

She also said the program needs funds to pay for the many activities planned for participation in "Project Aspiration" is an award given at the culmination of the school year.

City purchases vehicles under state contract

BELLE GLADE - The Belle Glade City Commission saved over $14,000 Monday night, December 13, when it purchased several new vehicles through a state contract.

The state contract is a listing of dealers that city's may purchase equipment and services from at set prices without entering the bidding process. The city had previously advertised for bids on the vehicles, but prices came in higher than those listed under state contract.

The city bought five police cars from Whitley Chevrolet in Tampa, Florida at a total cost of $40,285.

Local bidders were over $6,000 higher than the state contract price.

Doug Lockhart, Ford of Belle Glade quoted $46,809 for five police cars, and Al Packer Ford of West Palm Beach quoted $46,600 for five automobiles.

This option leaves the city the option of selling its trade-in vehicles independently.

The city also bought six vehicles for the utilities department through the state contract. The total cost of the purchase was $39,215. The city had budgeted $47,400.

That purchase includes three Ford pickups for meter reading, two pickups for the water treatment plant and one truck for the sewer system.

The city also gave City Manager W.E. "Tom" Strang permission to purchase a station wagon through the state contract. The city agreed as part of its contract with Strang to purchase a vehicle for his use in city business.

The commissioners asked Strang to purchase the vehicle with an extra seat in the rear, if the vehicle meets his approval.

The estimated cost of the station wagon is $8,825.

3 first-time courses offered at PBJC

There are three courses being offered for the first time in the Winter Term at Palm Beach Junior College Glades.

In the Business Department Real Estate Appraisal I is being offered. This course examines the appraisal process and applies it in an analytic approach to determine residential property value on a cost, market and income basis. Consideration will be directed to such factors as neighborhood and site analysis, residential style, functional utility, building cost estimates and depreciation. The instructor for this course will be Mr. John Underwood, who is the immediate past president of the Palm Beach County Appraiser's Association.

In the Science Department Zoology is being offered. This is an introductory course dealing with the structure, functioning, embryology, and evolutionary relationships of representatives of the major animal phyla culminating in man. The instructor for this course will be Dr. Wilbur Curless, Environmental Education Teacher for the Palm Beach County School Board.

In the Music Department Concert Chorus is being offered. This class is open to all students. They will participate in the study and performance of varied repertoire of choral music. Both accompanied and unaccompanied works are included.

For more information on classes at Palm Beach Junior College Glades, please call the Registrar's Office at 996-3055.

Dorothy Walker to chair board

The Palm Beach County Health Projects Governing Board held its Annual Christmas Party at the home of Mrs. Hyetta Dyson on West Palm Beach on December 11.

At a recent meeting, a new slate of officers was elected for next year. They will be formally installed at the Health Department's Belle Glade Center at 10 a.m. on January 27, 1983.

The officers to be installed are as follows:

Chairman: Dorothy Walker of Belle Glade
Vice Chairman: Howard Stevens, Secretary: Hyetta Dyson, Treasurer: Jack Dramer, and Publicity Committee Chairman: Ethel Barnes of Pahokee.

The Palm Beach County Health Projects Governing Board was established in 1979 as an outgrowth of a long standing effort of C.I. Brumback, M.D., M.P.H., Director of Palm Beach County Health Department to develop such a board.

The Board is composed of a group of citizens who represent a section of the county population. The group meets monthly to assist the Health Department staff to assess and formulate plans to meet community health needs, to review federal grant applications and to serve as the Community Advisory Committee for the Federal Projects.

Sponsor found for trash site

BELLE GLADE — Larry Simmons, the proprietor of a local package store, has informed the city of Belle Glade that he intends to sponsor a trash collection station, and has presented the city with a $200 check to be used for construction of the site, according to the city manager, Frank Anderson.

Simmons is the first sponsor to come forward for the project which was approved by the Belle Glade City Commission about a month ago.

Under the plan, local businessmen and civic organizations would donate the $200 estimated, necessary for the construction of the trash collection site and the city would maintain and empty them.

The sites are to be scattered throughout the community. Garbage dumpsters will be located beside the redwood or cypress wood constructions.

Larry Thompson, an employee of the city's sanitation department, is in charge of the plan.

Decorating a Gingerbread House for Christmas can be sticky business as these Girl Scouts of Troop 405, Belle Glade found out last Thursday. Anne Haskell, scout leader helped advise the 14 girls as they decorated the house for the Belle Glade Municipal Library.

FISHING Facts & Fancies

KNOW YOUR LINE

Though many fishermen don't realize it, it's a fact that nylon fishing line actually absorbs water, and becomes limp in the process. Water can lower the break strength of line by as much as 15 percent. Therefore, when you go fishing, it's important to use good tackle that can deal with abrasion and shock resistance, limpness, good reliability and stretch.

Technicians at Du Pont, makers of "Stren" fishing line, America's leading selling brand, suggest that you test your line when it's wet. To test line strength, put on a pair of gloves and try to break a section of line with an overhead knot tied in it. If it breaks easily, repeat this process moving up the line until it doesn't break. Remember that lighter line—four, six or eight pound test—will break more easily.

Most top quality lines, like "Stren," have a safety factor built in and are designed for a wide range of fishing conditions. So, before you go fishing this year, make sure your equipment is in top shape—especially your line. Clean your rods, oil your reels and repair any damaged rod guides. You'll have a better fishing vacation.

Shopping at home has benefits

Christmas shoppers who plan to shop at home this season will be receiving many benefits in addition to their bundles of gently wrapped packages.

"Nothing else does so much for the local economy as does shopping at local stores and shops at Christmas," said Julius T. Moon, president of the Bank of Pahokee, an independently owned and operated bank.

Shopping at home supports the local economy and encourages more local businesses which in turn brings more variety and value to the local community.

"By shopping at home, we are all underwriting the confidence we share in our own community, and that is especially important in these times of economic uncertainty," Moon said.

The Bank of Pahokee joins with local Chambers of Commerce in inviting local shoppers to "shop at home" where stores and shops are convenient, there's less traffic and chances are the people you're doing business with are your friends and neighbors.

Pioneer's life reflects love for Clewiston

By AILSA DEWING

From the time Stella Pirkle arrived in Florida in 1924 she loved it and when she arrived in Clewiston in 1940, she fell in love with it, also. During the ensuing years she's found many ways to express her love for her adopted state and community.

And the community has shown its affection for her, most significantly, perhaps, by naming her its Citizen of the Year in 1970 for her 18 years as secretary to the Chamber of Commerce.

Aluding to her "cheerful sweetness," the plaque awarded her on the occasion stated, "We have come to admire her love of the community... and her devotion to the interests of the City of Clewiston."

Severe illness has forced Mrs. Pirkle to become less active than she would like to be, but her wit is as sprightly as ever and she chuckles as she recalls the award ceremony on that September night.

"My award hadn't arrived in time and they borrowed Tom Jones's to use. When the dinner was over he came to me and said, 'You have to give that back to me, you know.'"

Mrs. Pirkle hadn't yet read the wording to realize there was a substitution.

Stella and her late husband, Charlie, came to Florida from Savannah, Ga., where he was employed as a building superintendent by a Palm Beach construction firm. They settled in Lake Worth and Mrs. Pirkle notes that he built some of the million dollar homes in Palm Beach.

Wherever Mr. Pirkle's work took him, Stella and eventually her son and two daughters, made their home, but by the time he was in charge of building the Okeechobee Center housing in Belle Glade the children had left home for college.

"The Pirklies rented an apartment in South Bay and Stella got a small taste of the trials of living in rural Florida.

"There was no water system in South Bay then and what came out of the faucets was sulphurous, smelly water. You couldn't cook with it and it turned the silverware and the bathroom fixtures black."

At Royal's grocery store, where Western Auto is now located, Stella Pirkle would buy five-gallon jugs of spring water and tote them up to their second-floor apartment.

It was the beautiful flowers in Clewiston that first impressed her, she remembers, especially the garden of Leah Spicer, and the Pirklies were among the many local residents whose gardens were started from cuttings of Mrs. Spicer's plants.

The Pirklies moved to Clewiston when Charlie Pirkle was hired by US Sugar Corp. to oversee the building of the commissary warehouse and after that, the present USSCO office building.

"The stairway is a copy of an Italian one," she remarks, "and the original board room was paneled in zebra wood."

When his construction work with USSCO came to an end, Pirkle went into contracting on his own. He built the Methodist and Presbyterian churches and several homes in town but Mrs. Pirkle was pleased when he gave up self-employment to become Clewiston city manager.

"He was too free with his valuable time," she says, "He gave away too much of it."

One of Stella Pirkle's jobs for her husband was to drive a truck to Miami to pick up millwork not available locally.

"I could leave here at 7 a.m. and be back at 11 o'clock," she says, admitting that she was a fast driver. US 27 was much the same as it is today but, she explains, "You wouldn't meet more than three trucks on it all the way."

Charlie Pirkle died in 1965 and was the city's building inspector at the time.

The Pirklies were active members of the Order of Eastern Star and instrumental in organizing the Clewiston chapter of the Order of Rainbow for Girls.

On one of her Miami trips, Stella had to shop around for what she'd be sent for, finally finding it at a lumber yard where the Pirklies weren't known.

"The lady in the office asked me for my credentials and I poured out everything I could find. Then she saw my Eastern Star membership card and she said she could accept that as a credit reference."

A 59-year OES member, Stella Pirkle joined the Lake Worth Chapter in 1929 on its tenth anniversary. After serving eight years as an officer, she was ready to step up to the post of Worthy Matron when her husband was transferred. She joined the Moore Haven Chapter in 1945 and when the Clewiston chapter organized in 1947-48, she was active in both chapters, for a time serving simultaneously as secretary to both.

Proud of the work that has been accomplished by the chapters, and a devotee of the rituals, Mrs. Pirkle also served as a district grand instructor. In 1957, the first secretary to the Chamber of Commerce, Isabel Powers, died and Stella Pirkle accepted the job "temporarily."

"I never regretted it. It was never a drudge to go to work," she says.

Although she was referred to as "executive secretary," Mrs. Pirkle denies the "executive" label. "I didn't run it, I worked for it," she insists.

During her tenure as chamber secretary, the Chamber of Commerce building occupied a site in city center. When the Florida Department of Transportation prohibited parking on Sugarland Highway, it was decided to erect a new building where the chamber offices are now located rather than sacrifice part of the park for a parking lot, Mrs. Pirkle explains.

"They didn't think the building could be moved but I told them I knew of contractors in Palm Beach who could move block buildings built on concrete slabs. At first they didn't believe me—probably because I was a woman," she adds parenthetically.

It cost $10,000 but the building was moved. It traveled down Central Avenue to Ventura then back up to Sagamore and across lots to its present site, according to Mrs. Pirkle.

"I never regretted it. It was never a drudge to go to work."...Stella Pirkle

While the building was moved without damage, the interior was covered with plaster dust and Mrs. Pirkle undertook the job of cleaning up along with her clerical duties.

She enjoyed meeting people and especially reciting the benefits of living in Clewiston to tourists who came into the office. "One man told me I sounded like a recording," she remembers, adding that the remark gave her a great deal of pleasure. "I've always made it my business to learn about where I live," she explains.

At that time, the chamber secretary also dispensed Red Cross money to stranded travelers. "They were supposed to pay it back and one or two did," she recalls. But she admits that she believed every hard luck story she was told, and when it was decided to have the police department screen people who asked for help, she was glad of the assistance.

"Some of them would just keep walking right on out of town after that," she says. "You just can't help everybody because some people get along that way, expecting help wherever they go."

In addition to serving the chamber, she also served as memorial chairman for both the American Heart Association and the American Cancer Society for many years.

She retired from her "temporary" job in 1977. "I realized I couldn't give all my life to the Chamber of Commerce," she explains.

In addition to her work with the chamber and the OES, she has been an active member of the Baptist Church, the Business and Professional Women, the Calusa Valley Historical Society and the Audubon Society.

When she was named Citizen of the Year, she was the third Clewiston woman to be honored with the title, succeeding Frederica Gonterman who created the Tropical Gardens, and Beryl Bowden who was publisher of The Clewiston News and the Glades County Democrat.

AT HOME TODAY and convalescing from recent illness, Stella Pirkle takes time out from her gardening to reminisce on bygone days.

Although Stella Pirkle didn't arrive in Clewiston early enough to be considered a pioneer, she still exhibits the dauntlessness of those early settlers.

Arriving home after convalescing at her daughter's in Lake Worth, Stella Pirkle found that rats had moved into the attic. She made the discovery when two of them fell on her as she turned on the attic fan.

"One was sickly and I finished him off with a book. The other one was young and frisky but he eventually ran into the bathroom and I knew I had him there."

Noting that she's not a cat fancier, she offered a bounty to high school students who would bring her yellow rat snakes. When someone asked her if she planned to keep them in the house, she asked, "Why not?" She'd prefer the snakes, she says, because cats are always getting under your feet.

Grateful for the loving care of her daughters during her illness, Stella Pirkle is nevertheless content to get along by herself. "They keep me," she insists, she explains, "and I've got a lot of gardening to do."

Planned Parenthood launches guild in Belle Glade

A new Planned Parenthood guild was launched Saturday (December 4) at a luncheon at Mrs. Ruth Wedgeworth's home.

The Belle Glade guild will function as a women's auxiliary group for Planned Parenthood, helping the family planning agency with fund raising, education, and public affairs lobbying.

Planned Parenthood is a non-profit family planning agency which believes that every child should be loved and wanted. Its services include complete gynecological exams, birth control information and methods, counseling, VD and cancer screening, mastectomy procedures, and pre-natal care classes for pregnant women.

Those interested in joining the guild should call the Planned Parenthood office at 996-4223.

Reye's syndrome subject of film

A film on Reye's Syndrome, a disease which afflicts children, is available for group viewing by the Glades County Health Department.

The disease frequently follows a viral infection such as influenza and chicken pox, according to Ruby Yock, RN, of the health department. Symptoms usually occur one to two weeks following a viral infection, she points out.

Symptoms include continuous and persistent vomiting, weakness, lethargy, unusual quietness, and listless behavior. In more severe cases, children become agitated, increasingly irritable, exhibit aggressive behavior and other personality changes.

Aspirin should not be given children suspected of having a viral infection, according to Nurse Yock. If symptoms occur, a child should be taken to a large medical center immediately because the symptoms mimic many other diseases making Reye's Syndrome difficult to diagnose.

Additional information can be obtained by calling the health department at 946-0707.

ABW chapter holds fashion show

Lone Cypress Chapter of the American Business Women's Association held its second annual luncheon fashion show Dec. 5 at Zip's Deli Restaurant in Moore Haven.

Models were Lori Smith, Janita Beck, Arlene Menach, Jackie Wilson, Scott Lindy, Marian Schramm, Beth Brownell, Joseph

Collier, Marcie Fricke, Les Lawaba, Brenda Collier, Linda and Danny Jones, Jody Gibson, Jennifer Swindle, Louise Pitchen, Pat Angie, Nicky Hitchcock, Amanda Woodley, Sallie Cline and Betsy Jo Wilson. Sharon Harris of Shorty's Beauty Shop

helped the models with their hair and make-up. Winner of the turkey basket was Dr. Leonard Crowell. Donors were B&B Supermarket, Winn-Dixie and Thriftway. All proceeds went to the chapter's scholarship fund.

Belgian farmers pay local visit

BELLE GLADE—A group of 20 vegetable farmers from Belgium under the leadership of Dr. P. Benoit, Senior Research Horticulturist and head of research and development at the Vegetable Research Station at Saint-Katheline-Waver, Belgium, were given a tour of several farming operations in the Glades on Dec. 1.

The Belle Glade Agricultural Research Center hosted the Belgian farmers. They were welcomed by Dr. Joe Good who outlined the research conducted at the local station.

The South Bay Growers, Inc., film "Seeds to Salad" was shown by Mrs. Sonja Watkins, the station librarian.

Following the presentation at the Research Center the group traveled to Pioneer Growers and was shown the sales operation and packing house by Robert Wigley. After lunch at the Belle Glade Country Club, Dr. Robert Allen escorted the group to South Bay Growers Inc., and to the field operations at Adams Glades and just south of South Bay. Donald Johnson gave the group a tour of the sweet corn, celery, and lettuce fields.

According to Dr. Allen, the group was most appreciative of the courtesies shown them while in the Glades and were very interested in the mechanization of the large scale farming operations.

Allen said questions were asked and answered through interpreters, Dr. F. Beniot and Mrs. Elizabeth Valenti, formerly of Holland, who served as professional tour guides in charge of the overall tour. This included farming operations and research stations in other areas of Florida and of course a day at Disney World.

Dorothy Walker to chair board

The Palm Beach County Health Projects Governing Board held its Annual Christmas Party at the home of Mrs. Hysetta Dyson in West Palm Beach on December 11. At a recent meeting, new slate of officers was elected for next year. They will be formally installed at the Health Department's Ridge Glade Center at the January 27, 1983 meeting.

The officers to be installed are as follows: Chairman: Dorothy Walker of R. H. C. Vice Chairman: Howard Stevens.

Secretary: Hysetta Dyson, Treasurer: Jack Drasser, and Publicity Committee Chairman: Ethel Barnes of Pahokee.

The Palm Beach County Health Projects Governing Board was established in 1979 as an outgrowth of a long standing effort of C. I. Brumbeck, M.D., M.P.H., Director of Palm Beach County Health Department to develop such a board.

The Board is composed of a group of citizens who represent a section of the county population. The group meets monthly to assist the Health Department staff to assess and formulate plans to meet community health needs, to review federal grant applications and to serve as the Community Advisory Committee for the Federal Projects.

Sponsor found for trash site

BELLE GLADE - Larry Simmons, the proprietor of a local package store, has informed the city of Belle Glade that he intends to sponsor a trash collection station, and has presented the city with a $200 check to be used for construction of the site, according to the city director, Frank Anderson.

Simmons is the first sponsor to come forward for the project which was approved by the Belle Glade City Commission about a month ago. Under the plan, local businessmen and civic organizations would donate the $200 estimated necessary for the construction of the trash collection sites, and the city would maintain and empty them. The sites are to be scattered throughout the community. Garbage dumpsters will be located beside the redwood or cypress wood constructions. Larry Thompson, an employee of the city's sanitation department, is in charge of the plan.

Decorating a Gingerbread House for Christmas can be sticky business as these Girl Scouts of Troop 405, Belle Glade found out last Thursday. Anne Haskell, scout leader helped advise the 14 girls as they decorated the house for the Belle Glade Municipal Library.

Belgian farmers pay local visit

BELLE GLADE—A group of 20 vegetable farmers from Belgium under the leadership of Dr. F. Benoit, Senior Researcher in Horticulture and head of research and development at the Vegetable Research Station at Sint-Katelijne-Waver, Belgium, were given a tour of several farming operations in the Glades on Dec. 1.

The Belle Glade Agricultural Research Center hosted the Belgian farmers.

They were welcomed by Dr. Joe Good who outlined the research conducted at the local station.

The South Bay Growers, Inc., film "Seeds to Salad" was shown by Mrs. Sonja Watkins, the station librarian.

Following the presentation at the Research Center the group traveled to Pioneer Growers and was shown the sales operation packing house by Robert Wigley.

After lunch at the Belle Glade Country Club, Dr. Robert Allen escorted the group to South Bay Growers Inc. and to the field operations at Adams Land, located just south of South Bay. Donald Johnson gave the group a tour of the sweet corn, celery, and lettuce fields.

According to Dr. Allen, the group was most appreciative of the courtesies shown them while in the Glades and were very interested in the mechanization of the large scale farming operations.

Dr. Allen said questions were asked and answered through interpreters, Dr. F. Benoit and Mrs. Elizabeth Valenti, formerly of Holland, who served as professional tour guides in charge of the overall tour. This included farming operations and research stations in other areas of Florida and of course a day at Disney World.

"Taking It From The Top"

by Dr. David T. Evans

"THE PRINCE OF THE PROPHECIES"

The Prince of Peace came as the fulfillment of ancient prophecies. For nearly a thousand years the prophets from the time of David the King had been prophesying that there would come a great Prince after the house of David.

Jesus of Nazareth was born in Bethlehem that all scripture might be consummated. Luke 24:44. "Then he spoke to them. These are my words which I spoke unto you, while it was still with you, that everything written about me in the law of Moses and the prophets and the psalm must be fulfilled."

Even as far back as David he was promised a successor who would rule forever. In II Samuel 7:12 Nathan makes this prophecy "When your days are fulfilled and you lie down with your father, I will raise up your son after you, who shall come forth from your body, and I will establish his kingdom."

The birth of Christ is forecast in Isaiah 7:14. "Therefore the Lord himself will give you a sign: behold a young woman shall conceive and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel." The place of the birth is indicated by Micah 5:2. "But you, O Bethlehem Ephrathah, who are little to be among the clans of Judah, from you shall come forth for me one who is to be ruler in Israel, whose origin is from old, from ancient days." The prophet Isaiah tells of this child: Isaiah 9:6, 7. "For to us a child is born, to us a son is given; and the government will be upon his shoulder, and his name will be called Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace. Of the increase of his government and of peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and over his Kingdom, to establish it, and to uphold it with justice and with righteousness from this time forth and for evermore. The zeal of the Lord of hosts will do this."

The triumphal entry of Jesus into Jerusalem is a part of the Prophecy. Zechariah 9:9 "Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion, shout aloud, O daughter of Jerusalem! Lo, your king comes to you, triumphant and victorious in him, humble and riding on an ass, on a colt the foal of an ass."

Even Christ's suffering and death were foretold in Isaiah 53:3, 4, 7. "He was despised and rejected by men, a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief; and as from whom men hide their faces he was despised, and we esteemed him not. Surely he has borne our griefs and carried our sorrows; yet we esteemed him stricken, smitten by God, and afflicted. He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth like a lamb that is led to slaughter, and like a sheep that before his shears is dumb, so he opened not his mouth."

The reason for Christ's death is told in Isaiah 53:6. "All we, like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord has laid on him the iniquity of us all."

Finally, even the resurrection of the Master is found in the message of Hosea 6:2. "After two days he will revive us; on the third day he will raise us up, that we may live before him."

The Prince of Peace brought the possibility of a life unburdened by grief and guilt. The preaching and the hearing of God's love would bring repentance and thereby forgiveness of sins.

The fulfillment of prophecy is tremendous and it shows the greatness of God and His love. The essence of this is summed up in John 3:16. "For God so loved the world that he gave His only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish but have eternal life."

Yet God did not leave anything to chance but he let us know what He was so that we might be motivated to live as it is only done with Christ. Listen to the words of Philippians 2:5-11.

"Have this mind among yourselves, which you have in Christ Jesus, who, though He was in the form of God, did not count equality with God a thing to be grasped, but emptied Himself, taking the form of a servant, being born in the likeness of men. And being found in human form he humbled Himself and became obedient unto death, even death on a cross. Therefore God has highly exalted Him and bestowed upon Him the name which is above every name..."

We have here the story, the reason, the motivating action, and the result. The Prince of Peace came to bring peace to you and to me. He gave his life and peace as a gift to a world made up of hell, frustrated, messed-up people whom He loved very much.

Let us accept the Prince of Peace so that we will not only have peace within ourselves, but so that we will know love. Then we can accept others as we have been loved and accepted by God.

God's long term program and plan is all inclusive and is to be counted upon. God is faithful and His love is from everlasting to everlasting.

Accept the Prince of Peace, who came as a child. Let Him come into your life and grow so that you may truly have the gift of love at Christmas.

Everglades History

Taken from our back issues

20 YEARS AGO THE BELLE GLADE HERALD DECEMBER 20, 1942

"Stiletto-like icicles and broadsword thrusts of low temperatures" wounded sugar cane and damaged vegetable crops in the Glades, with less harm to those crops growing on Tory and Kreamer Islands.

An accurate accounting of damage to cane crops in the freeze a week previous still hadn't been made but some of the growers had already harvested a third of their crop.

Belle Glade city commissioners asked city residents for approval of a $1.4 million bond issue to improve the water and sewer systems.

The most important goal was to find a new location for the city's new water intake but that location hadn't been determined yet.

The intake was located in the Rim Canal but engineers were looking at the possibility of placing it somewhere in Lake Okechobee.

The two-month period just ending was a good one for Glades General Hospital, which showed a 35 percent increase in patient days and increases in both profits and cash on hand.

30 YEARS AGO THE BELLE GLADE HERALD DECEMBER 19, 1932

An estimated 4,800 acres of beans were reported lost in the Glades following a frost.

Figuring an estimated yield of 125 hampers per acre and an average price of $2.50 per hamper, that represented a loss of $1.5 million to labor, farmers and packinghouses in the Glades.

Meanwhile, the first carload of a new crop, rice, was shipped from the Belle Glade area.

This was the first harvest of rice in the Glades in commercial quantities and came from the land of Fritz Stein, who planted 17 acres on Rabbit Island.

The 25,000 pounds of grain was dried by South Bay Grains and shipped to Crowley, La. to be milled.

Until the Glades Rice Growers Cooperative could complete construction of its own mill, drier and storage bins, rice crops would be dried by South Bay Grains and shipped to Crowley, La. to be milled.

Santa Claus may have been used to cold weather at the North Pole but the weather in Belle Glade turned a tad too frigid for the whiskered elf.

Santa deserted his wind-swept throne on Avenue A and Main Street for the shelter of the shops in the area, wandering from one to another to greet the small fry and get their orders for Christmas.

40 YEARS AGO THE EVERGLADES NEWS DECEMBER 16, 1942

Melcom Henry Miller, personnel manager of the Gold-Dobrow Theatres in the Glades, became an American citizen with the help of Judge George W. Todder of Fort Lauderdale.

Miller was born in London, England to Scots and Welsh parents but he wasn't a recent refugee of the blitz of war-torn England.

He had moved to British Columbia at the age of 3 and by 1899, he was a resident of Bellingham, Wash. labor camp.

Post Offices in Canal Point, Pahokee and Belle Glade joined with the national Post Office to urge people to mail their Christmas cards and gifts earlier than ever.

Christmas mailings started moving through the Post Office 10 to 12 days earlier than previous years because of wartime burdens on transportation.

The American Junior Red Cross said there was a 100 percent registration among students at Pahokee Elementary and Pahokee High Schools.

The students had been participating in the Tuberculosis and Health Association's annual Christmas fund drive through the purchase of pins and seals and $23.08 was expected to be turned over to the county Red Cross Chapter.

50 YEARS AGO THE EVERGLADES NEWS DECEMBER 16, 1932

The sugar cane harvest was about to begin and Palm Beach County Sheriff R.C. Baker was notified another 700 Negroes were needed to help get the crop in.

Cane was already being cut in the Canal Point area and the United States Sugar Corporation mill in Clewiston was expected to begin grinding at the maximum rate of 3,500 tons a day the following Monday.

A housing shortage had already made itself evident with the need for more cane cutters than ever before being cited as the primary reason.

The need for those cutters was being advertised in West Palm Beach and Fort Myers newspapers and applicants were advised to report to the Army labor camp.

Distribution of rations by the American Red Cross was suspended when the form of relief was changed to the providing of employment.

Distribution of rations was discontinued because of shortage and the approaching sugar cane harvest season.

Flowers add to festive air

A bright, colorful azalea, Christmas begonia, cypress, clematis or a gaily decorated poinsettia, cyclamen or Christmas pepper added to other decorations in the home give the holiday season a festive air.

These Christmas plants can be enjoyed not only during the holidays but will remain attractive far into January and even February if properly cared for. Care of Christmas plants, whether a colorful cyclamen, a long-lasting kalanchoe, or a cheerful Christmas begonia, is easy. Faithful attention will add days and even weeks of life to any of these popular Christmas plants.

Temperature has an important influence on the length of time a flowering house plant will remain attractive. The poinsettia is especially sensitive to chilling, and a prolonged cold spell will cause it to lose its leaves. The plant should be placed in the coolest part of the room, but not in a cold draft. This means away from radiators and other sources of heat. A temperature of 65 degrees at night is satisfactory but 60 degrees is still better for most of the flowering potted plants. In fact, cyclamen like a 50 degree night temperature.

The method of watering many times determines the life of a plant. Many drown their plants by watering at regular intervals, not considering whether the plant needs it. Plant roots need air as well as water, and excessive amounts of water do not allow a place for air in the soil. Overwatering literally smothers the plant roots. Proper watering calls for a little thoughtfulness and after exercise of restraint. Water should be applied in sufficient quantities to thoroughly soak the soil in the pot and no more given until the soil approaches dryness again. Plant should be checked for dryness daily but not watered if the soil is still moist.

Remember that most holiday plants have been out of a greenhouse a short period. The difference between a greenhouse environment and a typical indoor room is usually considerable. In the home provide as much natural light as possible. A dark bedroom, hall, entrance foyer or living room does not have optimum growing conditions. Place your plants where they receive the morning sun. Poor light will cause leaf drop.

Although the humidity in a house is not easily altered, plants will do best in an area of the house where the humidity is the greatest. This is usually in the cooking area. It often helps if the plants are set on pebble-filled saucers with water maintained at a level just below the

Dr. Evans speaks at Christmas luncheon

PAHOKEE—Dr. David T. Evans was the guest speaker at the Christmas luncheon of the Pahokee Women's Club on Dec. 8 with Anne Gay presiding.

Dr. Evans, pastor of the Everglades Presbyterian Church in Belle Glade, brought the Christmas message of "Love, Peace and Goodwill."

He suggested reading the Bible every morning instead of the newspaper and stated that love comes through communication, cooperation and concentration, always expecting the best from others.

He said love is caring, based on a close relationship with God, the greatest love is His love for us.

In keeping with the annual custom of the Pahokee Woman's Club, members brought wrapped gifts to be sent to veterans at the VA Hospital, and to the residents of the School for Boys at Okeechobee.

Bright, colorful Christmas decoration, many handmade, were used on the tables and throughout the clubhouse by the hostesses Kay Barnes, Mattie Sullivan and Lois Mullis.

Visitors were Bonnie Carney, Nellie Moss, Tina Elliott, Martha McIntosh, Julia Mathis, Peggy Bateman, Edity Pitta and Olla Vene Weeks.

The next meeting will be a business session on Jan. 12, 1983.

Young given farewell party

BELLE GLADE—Willie Jo Young, a student-teacher at Gove Elementary School was given a surprise farewell party Thursday by her supervising teacher, Mrs. Edith Henderson and Gove Elementary teacher Mrs. Dorothy Oliver.

A senior at Florida Atlantic University in Boca Raton, Mrs. Young will participate in commencement exercises Friday.

While interning in Mrs. Henderson's third class, Mrs. Young taught many educational components. She said her main unit was "Police Safety."

Mrs. Young said one of the activities of the unit was the guest appearance of Officer John Smith and his partner "King Tut" of the Belle Glade Police Department K-9 Unit.

Mrs. Henderson said Mrs. Young was an inspiration to the students and would highly recommend her skills, and dedication as a classroom teacher.

Married to Jerome Young and the mother of three, Mrs. Young said she plans to continue her education in January at FAU in the area of Mental Retardation.

On hand for the surprise party were Blanche Rodriguez, Miller, DeLoach and parent Renee Bishop.

Mrs. Henderson said parents helped provide refreshments for the party and contributed towards the purchase of a gift for Mrs. Young.

Recycle for holiday cash

BELLE GLADE—The festive holiday season is upon us. Help defray Christmas expenses and ring in the new year by recycling aluminum.

Save the many aluminum items found around the home during the holiday season and receive cash for them every Saturday (except December 25 and January 1 due to holiday) from 9:00 AM to 11:00 AM at the City Park, 600 West Canal Street.

Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Company pays the public 23 cents per pound for all aluminum beverage cans and foil items. They also pay 10 cents per pound for miscellaneous aluminum items and 10 cents per pound for cast items.

Besides all aluminum beverage cans and other clean household aluminum products such as pie plates, foil, frozen food and dinner trays and dips, pudding and meat containers. Reynolds purchases other miscellaneous aluminum items such as siding, gutters, storm door and window frames and lawn furniture tubing. These items should be free of any non-aluminum materials, cut to lengths not exceeding three feet, bundled and not mixed with cans. Aluminum castings include pots and pans, power lawn mower housings and barbecue grills also are purchased and recycled by Reynolds.

Drunk Driving Week observed

TALLAHASSEE—

The Florida Highway Patrol announced today that they were supporting national efforts in the observance of the week of December 12-18, 1983, as "National Drunk or Drugged Driving Awareness Week" which was proclaimed by Congress and signed into law on October 18 by President Ronald Reagan.

"The most serious problem on the highways of our nation is drunk driving," said Acting Director Lt. Colonel Roger C. Collier, "because drunk drivers kill and injure more people on the highways than any other cause. Accidents involving drivers who are under the influence of marijuana or other drugs are also on the increase. In Florida, careless driving is the leading violation producing accidents with drinking drivers running a close second place."

Over the past ten years, highway deaths involving alcohol or drugs has averaged 25,000 deaths per year nationwide which adds up to over one quarter of a million Americans that have lost their lives in alcohol related traffic accidents in the last decade.

"According to the National Highway Safety Administration, fourteen teenagers die each day in drunk driver accidents nationwide," continued Collier, "and in addition, 360 teenagers are injured each day in alcohol related crashes."

Florida statistics from the Patrol's accident records reflect that more than one fourth of the 3,119 persons killed in traffic accidents in 1981 were related killed in alcohol related accidents.

"The drinking driver is a threat to everyone who uses our highways," concluded Collier, "and when you consider the fact that 751 people died in alcohol related accidents in Florida last year, it's time for everyone from all walks of life to become involved in removing drunk drivers from our highways."

Be careful during holidays

The Christmas season should be a time of great cheer, but all too often it tragically turns to a time of sorrow because fire safety is neglected.

"People become so caught up in the gaiety of the season, in pretty decorations and romantic fireplaces that they often don't consider the safety factor," says Division of Forestry Fire Chief Michael C. Long.

Safety need not take away from the fun of the occasion.

"Most accidental fires inside and outside the house are caused by oversight rather than unconscious," Long said.

"A little planning as you put up your decorations will, for the most part, allow you to carry on safely during the remainder of the season without much thought about them."

The Division of Forestry offers the following checklist for fire safety:

- Use only electrical devices that carry the U.L. seal of approval.
- Never use frayed cords.
- Use lights specified to be outdoor safe for decorations outside the house.

- Don't use electrical lights on metal trees. Light such trees with floodlights, making sure the lights are out of reach of children and pets.
- Don't overload outlets or extension cords.
- Don't run extension cords under rugs, on hooks or through doors.
- Don't use lighted

candles on Christmas trees.

- Be sure plastic trees and decorations are fire resistant.
- Don't allow natural Christmas trees to dry out. Don't place them near heaters, fireplaces or air conditioning or heating vents because this will cause them to dry out quicker.
- Always use fire screens on fireplaces.

Mr. Walter Stephens, principal of Glade View presented Eric Gordon, right, head custodian at the school, an appreciation award from staff members during a recent PTO meeting at the school.

Methodist Church to present cantata

PAHOKEE—

Come share an evening of Christmas Joy and Praise with the First United Methodist Church of Pahokee. The music department is presenting their annual Christmas Cantata Wednesday, Dec. 22 at 7:30 p.m.

The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Sandra Jarriel, will be singing Love, Joy, Peace, arranged by Tom Felt.

An organ and piano accompaniment presented by Mrs. Ann Rita Crews and Mrs. Eddie Mikovsky will proceed the program beginning at 7:30.

For an extra special Christmas treat, be with the First United Methodist Church Sunday, Dec. 18 at 7:30 p.m. when the children and youth of the church present Bethlehem Evening News.

Afterwards refreshments will be served in the Fellowship Hall. It rumored that Santa might visit too.

A Little Consideration--about packaging

A little consideration can go a long way when you choose a product for your family. Consider how the product is packaged. You may want to choose products that come in sealed packages, or you may want to select products that have caps with breakable seals.

Inspect the item (but do not open it before you buy. If something doesn't look right with the product, let the store manager know.

With a little consideration you can take an active role in protecting yourself and your family.

Young given farewell party

BELLE GLADE—Willie Jo Young, a student-teacher at Gove Elementary School was given a surprise farewell party Thursday by her supervising teacher, Mrs. Edith Henderson and Gove Elementary teacher Mrs. Dorothy Oliver.

A senior at Florida Atlantic University in Boca Raton, Mrs. Young will participate in commencement exercises Friday.

While interning in Mrs. Henderson's third class, Mrs. Young taught many educational components. She said her main unit was "Police Safety."

Mrs. Young said one of the activities of the unit was the guest appearance of Officer John Smith and his partner "King Tut" of the Belle Glade Police Department K-9 Unit.

Mrs. Henderson said Mrs. Young was an inspiration to the students and would highly recommend her skills, and dedication as a classroom teacher.

Married to Jerome Young and the mother of three, Mrs. Young said she plans to continue her education in January at FAU in the area of Mental Retardation.

On hand for the surprise party were Blanche Rodera, Miller, Doreen and parent Renee Bishop.

Mrs. Henderson said parents helped provide refreshments for the party and contributed towards the purchase of a gift for Mrs. Young.

Drunk Driving Week observed

TALLAHASSEE—The Florida Highway Patrol announced today that they were supporting national officials in the observance of the week of December 12-18, 1982, as "National Drunk or Drugged Driving Awareness Week," which was proclaimed by Congress and signed into law on October 15 by President Ronald Reagan.

The most serious problem on the highways of our nation is drunk driving," said Acting Director Lt. Colonel Roger C. Collier, "because drunk drivers kill and injure more people on the highways than any other cause. Accidents involving drivers who are under the influence of marijuana or other drugs are also on the increase. In Florida, careless driving is the leading violation producing accidents with drinking drivers running a close second place."

Over the past ten years, highway deaths involving alcohol or drugs has averaged 25,000 deaths per year nationwide which adds up to over one quarter of a million Americans that have lost their lives in alcohol related traffic accidents in the last decade.

"According to the National Highway Safety Administration, fourteen teenagers die each day in drunk driver accidents nationwide," continued Collier, "and in addition, 360 teenagers are injured each day in alcohol related crashes."

Florida statistics from the Patrol's accident records reflect that more than one fourth of the 3,119 persons killed in traffic accidents in 1981 were killed in alcohol related accidents.

"The drinking driver is a threat to everyone who uses our highways," concluded Collier, "and when you consider the fact that 751 people died in

Be careful during holidays

The Christmas season should be a time of great cheer, but all too often it tragically turns to a time of sorrow because fire safety is neglected.

"People become so caught up in the gaiety of the season, in pretty decorations and romantic fireplaces that they often don't consider the safety factor," says Division of Forestry Fire Chief Michael C. Long.

Safety need not take away from the fun of the occasion.

"Most accidental fires inside and outside the house are caused by oversight rather than

house.

- Don't use electrical lights on metal trees. Light such trees with floodlights, making sure the lights are out of reach of children and pets.
- Don't overload outlets or extension cords.
- Don't run extension cords under rugs, on hooks or through doors.
- Don't use lighted

candles on Christmas trees.

- Be sure plastic trees and decorations are fire resistant.
- Don't allow natural Christmas trees to dry out. Don't place them near heaters, fireplaces or air conditioning or heating vents because this will cause them to dry out quicker.
- Always use fire screens on fireplaces.

Mr. Walter Stephens, principal of Glade View presented Eric Gordon, right, head custodian at the school, an appreciation award from staff members during a recent PTO meeting at the school.

Methodist Church to present cantata

PAHOKEE—Come share an evening of Christmas Joy and Praise with the First United Methodist Church of Pahokee. The music department is presenting their annual Christmas Cantata Wednesday, Dec. 22 at 7:30 p.m.

The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Sandra Jarrell, will be singing Love, Joy, Peace, arranged by Tom Fettes.

An organ and piano ensemble presented by Mrs. Ann Rita Crews and Mrs. Eddie Mikovsky will proceed the program beginning at 7:30.

For an extra special Christmas treat, be with the First United Methodist Church Sunday, Dec. 19 at 7:30 p.m. when the children and youth of the church present Bethlehem Evening News.

Afterwards refreshments will be served in the Fellowship Hall. It rumored that Santa might visit too.

Anderson promoted

Arnold J. Jackson, son of John L. and Ella Jackson of 740 S.W. Eighth St., Belle Glade, has been promoted in the U.S. Army to the rank of private first class.

Jackson is a supply specialist at Fort Campbell, Ky., with the 561st Supply and Services Battalion.

Jackson is a 1981 graduate of Glades Central High School, Belle Glade.

THE CAST of 'Gift of the Magi' includes (front, left) Natasha Lugo, Terri Willis, Annabelle Garcia, Lissette Cabrera, (second row) Rick Hornsby, Pam Burkett, Drew Sherman, and Laura Washington.

'Gift of the Magi' set for Thursday

"Gift of the Magi" is a one-part play about two poor newly weds who give up their prized possessions to give each other a Christmas present.

The Clevelston High School drama class will present the play Thursday, Dec. 16, at 7:30 p.m. in John B. Boy Auditorium.

The CHS chorus will present a separate program of Christmas music with soloists prior to the play.

Donations raised by this adaption of a play by O. Henry will be used to pay for a trip by the drama class to Hollywood, Calif. next year, said Cyndi Grace, drama teacher.

The trip is planned under the "That's Hollywood Entertainment 1983" program, which exposes students to the production of television programs and movies.

Donations are $3 for adults and $2 for students. Members of the cast include Natasha Lugo, Rick Hornsby, Pam Burkett, Terri Willis, Lissette Cabrera, Annabelle Garcia, Leo Hegley, and Laura Washington. The student director is, Drew Sherman.

A Little Consideration--about packaging

A little consideration can go a long way when you choose a product for your family. Consider how the product is packaged. You may want to choose products that come in sealed packages, or you may want to select products that have caps with breakable seals.

Inspect the item but do not open it before you buy. If it doesn't look right with the product, it's most likely wrong.

With a little consideration you can take an active role in protecting yourself and your family.

YOU CAN BUY IT FOR LESS IN FLORIDA.

From high tech to textiles. From typesetting machines to commercial washing machines. From computer chips to potato chips. It's all made in Florida. In the business climate that lets all kinds of companies make all kinds of products better, for less. And it stands to reason that what one company can make for less in Florida, your company can buy for less in Florida. So call or write to tell us your company name and what you've been buying out of state. We'll tell you where you can buy it in Florida. The state where higher-quality products are made for lower prices.

You can buy it for less where you can make it for less.

Taking care of your Christmas tree

The Christmas tree originated in western Germany several hundred years ago. German settlers introduced the custom into Pennsylvania in 1816 and by 1860 the Christmas tree had become fashionable in the eastern states. Today the Christmas tree is one of the most popular and beautiful symbols of Christmas.

It is important to choose a fresh tree and keep it as fresh as possible so that your tree will remain lovely throughout the holidays. First of all select a tree with good needle holding ability. Florida's warm weather causes trees to quickly wilt and drop their needles. This can be severe enough to completely defoliate a tree and necessitate buying a second tree before Christmas. Also choose a tree with an attractive color and a full, bushy appearance. Those "skinky," "see-through" trees should be avoided. Most people prefer a conical, symmetrical shape to their tree. The branches should be sturdy enough to hold ornaments and decorations such as small lights.

The more recent trees have been cut the better. Freshly cut trees will have good needle holding quality and will have better resistance to ignition. These points are extremely important. Scotch and white pine and Douglas and Balsam fir naturally have good needle holding qualities. Spruce trees tend to lose needles quickly. Bend the needles to determine the tree's freshness. The needles should be supple and springy. If the needles break, the tree is not fresh. Bounce the butt of the tree on the ground and see how many needles fall. If more than a few fall, the tree is old and dry. Also feel the stump. The sap should be sticky and moist not hard and cracked.

After you have selected your tree, follow these tips to maintain color and minimize needle fall.

Stand the tree in a large bucket of water in a shady and cool place. The cooler the better. If the tree has to lean against the wall, turn it daily to allow the tree to retain its shape.

When you move the tree indoors, make a fresh cut across the trunk at least an inch or two above the old cut to allow the tree to absorb water. Place the tree in a suitable container which contains water. In most homes a tree can absorb up to a quart of water a day so keep the reservoir full. A floral preservative, such as those used for flower arrangements added to the water will help keep the tree fresh.

Place the tree in the coolest part of the room away from the fireplace, radiator or other heating units. A well-watered tree in a cool location will hold its needles longer and retain its quality. It will also be the safest, as far as a fire is concerned.
